GRAMMAR 22.1 GRAMMATICA 22.1

Declension of Nouns and Pronouns

Declinazione di Nomi e Pronomi

The term “declension” describes the way in which nouns and pronouns change their form (e.g. “I”, “me”, “my”, “mine”, etc.) depending on their context and to signify what is happening to them in different “cases”. These cases are listed in Column 1 of the table in Grammar 22.2. Examples are given after the table.

Il termine “declinazione” descrive il modo in cui nomi e pronomi cambiano la loro forma (es. “io”, “me”, “mio”, ecc.) in base al loro contesto e per spiegare ciò che a loro accade nei diversi “casi”. Questi casi sono messi in lista nella Colonna 1 della tabella nella sezione Grammatica 22.2. Alcuni esempi sono forniti dopo la tabella.

Bengali is constantly developing, and although there may be 7 or 8 finely differentiated “cases”, some modern grammarians consider that some of these are no longer distinct, but that these are brought into effect by adding post-positions to the Possessive form.

Il Bengali è in costante cambiamento, e sebbene ci possono essere 7 o 8 casi ben differenziati, alcuni moderni grammatici considerano che alcuni di questi non sono ben distinti ma che sono resi effettivi aggiungendo post-posizioni alla forma possessiva.

There is a difference between treatment of animate and inanimate objects.

C'è differenza tra il trattamento di oggetti animati e inanimati.

The plural is often simplified by omitting a post-position, if the sense is already understood.

Il plurale è spesso semplificato omettendo una post-posizione, se il senso è facilmente comprensibile.

The table in Grammar 22.2 shows the declension for nouns. Grammar 23.1 shows the declension for pronouns, which is basically as for animate nouns.

La tabella in sezione Grammatica 22.2 mostra la declinazione per nomi. La Grammatica 23.1 mostra la declinazione per pronomi, che è basicamente come per i nomi animati.

GRAMMAR 22.3 GRAMMATICA 22.3*Word Order in Bengali Ordine delle parole in bengali

{Nominative subject} is positioned first.

{Verb} is put last.

{Accusative object 'block' of words} is put just before the verb.

{Block of next importance down} goes just before the {Accusative block}, and so on.

{Possessive block} is treated as if it were an adjective, and it is placed in front of the word block it qualifies.

{soggetto nominativo} è posizionato come primo.

{Verbo} è messo come ultimo.

{caso accusativo, blocco di parole} è messo appena prima del verbo.

{Blocco successivo per importanza} va appena prima del {blocco di caso accusativo} e così via.

{Blocco possessivo} è trattato come se fosse un aggettivo, ed è posto prima del blocco di parole a cui si riferisce.

Examples Esempi

The first two examples below are in positive "copula" equating form, so the form of the verb "to be" that links the Subject and Predicate can normally be omitted in Bengali.

I primi due esempi che seguono sono nella forma positiva equivalente della "copula", così che la forma del verbo "essere" che collega soggetto e predicato può essere normalmente omessa in Bengali.

In the fourteenth example, treat "Sunday" and "afternoon" as adjectives for the noun "period".

Nei quattordici esempi, "Domenica" e "pomeriggio" sono trattati come aggettivi per il nome "periodo".
